Two Weeks of Action Back to Back!

DEFUSE NUCLEAR WAR WEEK OF ACTION
September 24–30

As an active member of the Defuse Nuclear War Coalition, VFP invites all our chapters and members to join in nationwide protests, vigils, demonstrations, and other actions – for diplomacy with Russia and Ukraine; disarming ICBMs; and reinstating ABM, INF and Open Skies treaties – in the coming week of action.

GLOBAL DAYS OF ACTION
September 30–October 8

The Peace in Ukraine Coalition is a U.S.-based coalition of peace and social justice organizations including VFP that are urgently mobilizing together to end the war in Ukraine. From the beginning – and during our upcoming Global Days of Action, from Saturday, September 30 through Sunday, October 8 – our message and our demands are concise and clear:

• Stop the Killing on All Sides – Implement a Ceasefire Now
• We Want Negotiations for Peace, NOT Weapons for Endless War
• Billions of Dollars for Human Needs, NOT for War Profiteers
• Nuclear Abolition, Not Nuclear War!

We cannot control the actions of the Russian or Ukrainian governments, but we can influence our own government if we organize and mobilize. Please join us!

VFP Launches a New Project

Join a new campaign to bring the movement for labor rights in a closer relationship with the movement for a peaceful world.

Veterans For Peace launched an exciting new project on September 7, 2023. Named Veterans and Labor for Sensible Priorities, its purpose is to bring veterans, labor unions, and other worker organizations together around a campaign to cut the Pentagon budget and move the money to address the climate crisis, fund human needs, and create good, family-supporting jobs. The project will also expose how corporate rule is against the interests of labor, peaceful resolution of conflict, and the planet.

As long as the United States spends more than half of its discretionary budget on bloated militarism, there will never be enough money available to solve the climate crisis and to meet the real needs of working people everywhere.

VFP Radio recap
Recent shows produced by the Hector Black Chapter

9.14.23 Military Sexual Assault and Trauma: A True Story. Jenny Pacanowski of Women Veterans Empowered and Thriving facilitates the telling of a true story about military sexual assault experience and the continued failure of the military to address the issue of MST. LISTEN HERE.

9.21.23 Why is Militarism Often Left Out of Climate Discussions? In the wake of this weekend's nationwide climate action to end fossil fuels, Steve Morse explains the global impact of militarism and how VFP's Climate Crisis and Militarism Project is working to get the word out. LISTEN HERE.

Congratulations NNOMY!

The 2023 U.S. Peace Prize was presented to the National Network Opposing the Militarization of Youth on September 19, “for national efforts to stop U.S. military influence on young people, saving lives here and abroad.” The award was made at the Peace Resource Center of San Diego by Michael Knox, Chair and Founder of the U.S. Peace Memorial Foundation.
Norman Solomon's recent op-ed, Biden Is the Latest President To Tout the Vietnam War as Proud History (Scheerpost, 9/20/23), explains how our failure to deal with the past ensures more of the same for our future:

"As George Orwell put it, 'Who controls the past controls the future: who controls the present controls the past.' And a government that intends to continue its might-makes-right use of military power needs leaders who do their best to distort history with foggy rhetoric and purposeful omissions. Lies and evasions about past wars are prefigurative for future wars."

Parting Shots

Chapter 27 was joined by several peace groups at Camp Ripley near Little Falls, Minnesota, for an open house. We were able to walk in thru the main gate with our mock tank before being turned back. "Tanks? No Thanks" was our theme for the day. We shot flower petals rather than armaments.
