“Thank You for Your Service (for Peace)”

This program offers a different twist to Armistice Day commemorations by recalling the tens of thousands of service members who opposed war and militarism during the Vietnam War and the civilians who helped them.

- David Cortright, Moderator, Vietnam era GI activist, scholar, author of Soldiers in Revolt.
- J.J. Johnson, member of the Ft. Hood Three who refused orders for Vietnam in 1966 in one of the earliest acts of collective GI resistance to the war (a VFP member).
- Susan Schnall, former Navy nurse who was court-martialed for helping to organize an antiwar march of soldiers and civilians in San Francisco in 1968 (current VFP Board President).
- John Kent, former Navy fighter pilot who turned in his wings rather than fly combat missions in Vietnam and helped to organize the Concerned Officers Movement.
- Kathy Gilberd, executive director of the National Lawyers Guild Military Law Task Force, a specialist on GI rights who was active in the antiwar movement and helped to provide legal aid for GI organizing (VFP Advisor).
- Paul Lauter, former Chicago Region Peace Education Secretary of the American Friends Service Committee and executive director of the U.S. Servicemen’s Fund, which provided support for GI coffeehouses, underground newspapers, and organizing projects.

An invitation from Kathy Kelly, Merchants of Death War Crimes Tribunal Organizer & World BEYOND War Board President

Weapon makers project obscene profits from U.S. funding for war. Last week, over 100 activists held a die-in blocking the main entrance of Raytheon's office in Tucson, condemning Raytheon's complicity in the genocide of Palestinians by supplying missiles, bombs and weapons systems to Israel. Here is a list of action-oriented outdoor protests being planned in cities around the world.

Following the senseless "industrialized slaughter" of World War I, antiwar protesters vowed to never again tolerate merchants of death dragging them into horrific wars. On Armistice Day we say "war no more" as we call out those who would profit from killing.

Over 1,000 people have registered for the Merchants of Death War Crimes Tribunal. Please register if you haven't already, and encourage others to register, via THIS LINK.

A PLEDGE and a CHALLENGE to VFP Members & Supporters from VFP National Director, Mike Ferner

Our bodies are needed at the front lines of this struggle to end the genocide in Gaza...and we are starting to answer the call.

Scattered across the country, our members are carrying signs and speaking out. Some have raised the volume by getting arrested in Senate hearings, hometown Congressional offices and corporate headquarters of the Merchants of Death.

But we can and we must do more.

More of us must vote...and I don't mean at a polling place. We must cast our whole vote by throwing our bodies on the gears of the war machine and joining our comrades who have been arrested in civil resistance actions.

My pledge, which I hope each of you who are physically able to will match, is this: I will vote with my whole body in a civil resistance action at my Congress Member's office. For obvious reasons I can't say where or when, but soon, and I will let you know.

Considering what's at stake, it's very little. If you've done it before, as many of us have, you know it's nothing at all compared to what people are suffering under our bombs. If you've not yet, you won't find a better time than now to begin.

Now is when we show what Veterans For Peace members are made of.

Mike Ferner, Director
Veterans For Peace

"Can't add my name into the fight when I'm gone
And I won't be laughing at the lies when I'm gone
Can't be singing louder than the guns when I'm gone
So I guess I'll have to do it while I'm here." -- Phil Ochs

On September 28, 2023, VFP member James Yee was one of those who testified at a special hearing on closing the detention camp at the U.S. Guantanamo Bay Naval Base.

Chaired by Members of the European Parliament Clare Daly and Mick Wallace, the event is taped and is available for online viewing. [James Yee appears at minute 25:50 to 38:00.] Former prisoners of the camp are joined by a prominent human rights activists advocating for the closure of the detention camp and for the EU and its Member States to assist in finding viable solutions for the relocation of the remaining prisoners to third countries, and the guarantee of decent living conditions for former prisoners wrongfully detained by the US administration for years and then resettled.

Captain James Yee is a West Point graduate who later studied Islam in Damascus, Syria. He served as a U.S. Army chaplain and was assigned to Guantanamo Bay in late 2002 to minister to the prisoners suspected of terrorism. Chaplain Yee reported the prisoners’ abusive conditions to his superiors and recommended ways to both improve their conditions and maintain security. His superiors tried to implement his recommendations, which ran afoul of others in the intelligence section. Yee was then arrested, falsely accused and subjected to abusive conditions himself while held in solitary confinement. His family, legal defense team and political support movement finally got him released with all charges dropped. He left the U.S. Army with an Honorable Discharge, and has since written a book about his experience, For God and Country, Faith and Patriotism Under Fire.
